Dear Friends,

Wallace Steven's wrote that the greatest poverty is not to live, and it is the poet's role to lead men and women out of their ordinary lives into a wider and richer sphere of life. Like the poet, Zen practice, in its own way, strives to encourage all who come to it to develop this wider and richer life. Our door is always open; a place is prepared for each; meals are served every day.

And so every autumn we turn to you, our friends who know us, to assist us financially to keep Morning Star Zendo alive and functioning. No one takes a salary here. All you give goes to the care and support of our guests. We deeply appreciate your assistance.

In deep gratitude,

Roshi
